

Moore Life Medical and Last Chance Funds Changed 29 Lives in 2019

Twenty-nine animals got a second chance due to IV4A pledges from the Moore Life Medical Fund (MLMF) and the Last Chance Fund (LCF) in 2019. Thanks to everyone who donated!

With an average individual pledge of $383, the Moore Life Medical Fund aided twenty-three needy pets. The Last Chance Fund, with an average pledge of $325 per animal, helped six who might otherwise have perished. And the lifesaving goes on! In January 2020, MLMF pledged $800 to help two animals, and LCF pledged $250 toward expenses for one.

Since these funds were established, IV4A has received donations that total more than $40,000 and 163 animals have benefitted. Dogs like Coop, who sustained a fractured leg in an altercation with another dog and lost his adoptive home. Back at the shelter, his growing anxiety put both his recovery and his chances for adoption at risk. A pledge from the Last Chance Fund enabled Canine Castaways to rescue this boy, who's now thriving in his foster home.

Poor Blue Bell was orphaned when both her people passed away within a short time. Frightened and confused at the shelter, she began to just shut down. In addition, she required extensive vet care for masses all over her body and serious dental issues. With the help of a Moore Life Medical Fund pledge, she was rescued by Humane Society of the Dunes. Today, Blue Bell is coming out of her shell and her future looks much brighter.

Your donations make these Funds possible. The Moore Life Medical Fund helps to offset veterinary care costs for animals with medical issues that keep them from being rescued from Indianapolis Animal Care Services. The Last Chance Fund provides financial aid for an animal with only days or hours left to live at IACS. Both work exclusively with all-volunteer rescue groups.

Your gift, large or small, will help save a life! Please donate at www.indysvoice4animals.org.
